MADISON –Consumers with egg allergies are advised to not consume Lafonds Fish Market brand Smoked Salmon Spread produced and sold by Blue Water Fisheries in Kewaunee, Wisconsin, according to the food safety officials from the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection. The product, manufactured before March 19, 2015, contains egg which is not declared on the ingredients label.

Egg can cause serious reactions in people with an allergy or severe sensitivity. No illnesses have been reported from consuming these products. The products are safe to consume by those who do not have an allergy or intolerance to egg or egg products.

Small batches of the spread are produced and distributed to local retail locations and bear the Lafonds Fish Market name. The affected product is sold refrigerated and has a “process date” before March 19. Blue Water Fisheries/Lafonds Fish Market have proactively contacted their retail outlets to remove the product from shelves. It is possible that consumers may have this product in their homes.

This product may have been purchased from the following retail locations:

- Festival Foods- 1001 Main Avenue, De Pere, WI 54115
- Festival Foods- 647 S. Green Bay Road, Neenah, WI 54956
- Festival Foods- 1200 W. Northland Avenue, Appleton, WI 54915
